City Water Use Down This Year

Canyon's water use from the first of June to the middle of July is off about 20 per cent from the same period last year, figures at the city pump station show.

For the past week, use is down about 40 per cent from the same week last year.

During the period from June 1 to July 15 this year the water usage has been 51,055,300 gallons. During the same period last year, it was 62,126,200 gallons.

During the last week, the use was 8,293,500 gallons while it was 14,685,500 last year.

Usage last week was 769,700 on July 8, 993,800 July 9, 1,127,100 July 10, 1,466,500 July 11, 1,217,400 July 12, 1,124,100 July 13 and 1,594,900 July 14.

On the same days last year, the usage was 2,239,600 July 8, 2,276,100 July 9, 2,098,200 July 10, 2,073,400 July 11, 2,152,300 July 12, 1,127,700 July 13 and 1,718,500 July 14.

The greatest single day's use this year was 1,950,500 on July 1. Last year's high days were all over two million gallons.

The figures shown by the pump station are for the water pumped from underground storage into the overhead tanks. The pumping is automatic, with the pumps starting when the level in the overhead tanks reaches a certain point. The meter in the pump station shows the volume of water being pumped and the exact time the pumps are running. It also shows the number of gallons, in hundreds of gallons, which have been pumped through the meter.

With the score tied 14-14 at the end of six innings, the Braves-Yankees Little League game was called Monday night because of the 9:30 curfew.

In the Minor League game, the Yankees won 18-11.

Saturday night the Redlegs beat the Yankees 6-5, with Steve Burgess, the winning pitcher, allowing only four hits. In the early game, the Yankees won, 6-5, with Randy Cook getting the win.

Other Major League scores are: July 10, Braves 6, Dodgers 3; July 8, Dodgers 11, Yankees 3. Minor League scores include Braves 6, Dodgers 5; Dodgers 10, Yankees 8.

New Patrolman On Canyon PD

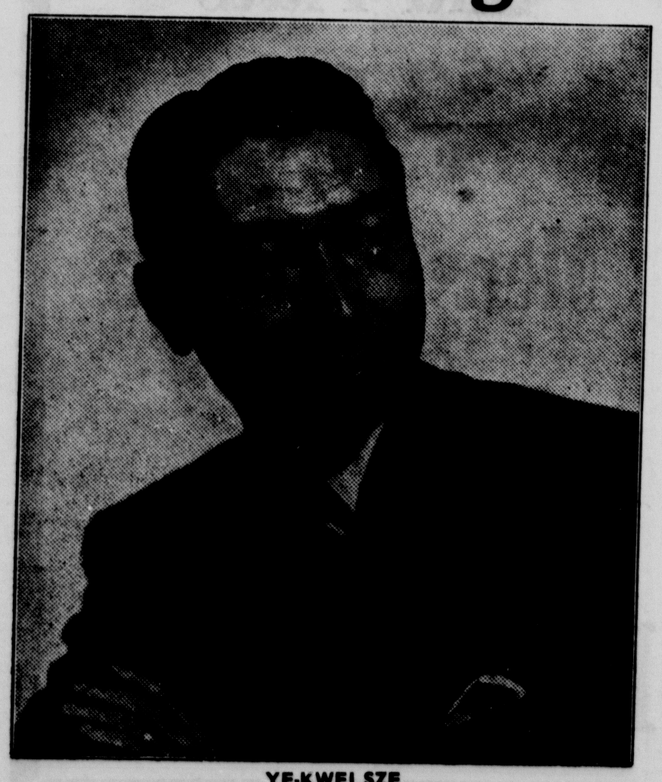
The Canyon Police Department has a new patrolman, replacing Ted Campbell who left after the first of the month.

The new patrolman is Max D. McNutt, 26, who lives at 1501 Third Avenue. McNutt was a member of the Odessa Police Department from July, 1954, to February, 1957.

Since that time he has been employed in pipeline construction. McNutt is married.

Mrs. Gladdis Samples, of the Canyon News staff, is vacationing in South America, visiting her son, Curtis Jr., and his family.

Chinese Singer To Perform Here



YE-KWEI SZE

A Chinese bass-baritone and the Amarillo Symphony have been selected as one of the feature programs for the 1958-59 Canyon Community Concert season.

The baritone-symphony program has been set for Nov. 10. Admission will be by membership only, and memberships will be solicited during the week of October 5.

The singer, Yi-Kwei Sze (pronounced E-Kwei Zee), is the first singer of China to win international fame as an interpreter of leading roles in Western opera, and as an artist on the concert stage.

He has appeared with the San Francisco, New York City and Philadelphia Civic Grand Opera Companies, as soloist with major American orchestras, and with choral groups such as the New York Oratorio Society and the Robert Shaw Chorale.

Sze will be backed in his concert by the Amarillo Symphony, and the orchestra will also provide a concert program.

Other attractions for the concert season have not been selected, and will not be until after the membership campaign is completed. The association operates on the basis of bringing professional artists after the board of directors knows how much money can be spent.

It is expected that two more programs will be planned, however a third will be added if the membership drive is successful enough. As in past years, the dues will be $6 for adults and $3 for students.

Sze is the youngest son of a Shanghai business man, and first became acquainted with Western music through hymns and school songs he learned to sing while attending a school conducted by Presbyterian missionaries. At 17 he began to study violin and painting, but soon decided to concentrate on becoming a singer.

Sze served with the Chinese army during World War II, and made plans to come to the United States after making contact with Americans during the war. His fiance, Nancy Lee, was able to make the trip earlier than he, but they were reunited in January, 1947, and were married in the New York Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church.

He has toured extensively in Australia, New Zealand, Alaska, Hawaii and the West Indies. On recordings he may be heard in "Romeo and Juliet" with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, recorded by RCA Victor, and in a group of Chinese Folksongs, recorded by the Concert Hall Society.

Babe Ruth Tourney Pits Canyon Against El Paso Thursday Night

The Randall County Babe Ruth All-Star team will play an all star team from El Paso in the first round of the Babe Ruth district tournament at 6 p. m. Thursday in Levelland.

The team will leave Canyon between 1 and 2 p. m. Thursday and will return after the game. Members of the team are Bill Ritter, Ira Burgan, Russell Cook and Bill Callarman of the Giants, Duane Clay, Ronnie Reynolds, Harry Lisle and Leon Henderson of the White Sox; George Prichard, Jess Sheets, Albert Keller and Jim Cabe of the Cardinals; and Clark de Schweinitz, Jim Glenn and James Boyd of the Pirates.

The team is being coached by George Ritter and Jim Boyd, regular coaches of the Giants and Pirates, respectively. Other coaches of the league are Chet Reynolds of the White Sox and Borden Price and Don Paris of the Cardinals.

During this week the regular Babe Ruth schedule is suspended, so the All-Star team can practice and play in the tournament.

Other games in the first round of the tournament are North Levelland against Sundown, South Levelland against Brownfield, and Muleshoe against Dumas.

The league here finished the first half of the season with the Giants leading with six wins and three losses. The White Sox were second with five wins and four losses and the Pirates were third with a 4-5 record. The Cardinals were in last place with three wins and six losses.

The former Martha Mae Hales, she was a sister of Jones, Richmond and Joe Hales of Canyon. Other survivors include her husband, two children, and Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hales of Amarillo, her parents.

Little League District Playoffs Set for Canyon on July 25-26

The district Little League playoffs will be played in Canyon July 25 and 26, Bill Moore of Muleshoe, district representative, has announced.

The area tournaments will be held in Pampa, Littlefield and Levelland on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Randall County Little League's All Star team will play its first playoff game against Hereford at 11 a. m. Monday in Pampa. The winner will meet the winner of the Canadian-Dumas game on Tuesday, and the winner of that game will enter the playoffs in Canyon.

Hereford's team was the district winner last year, and lost in the sectional game in Hereford.

This year's sectional playoffs will be July 28 to Aug. 2 in Rotan. The division playoffs are in Beaumont on Aug. 8-9 and regional playoffs are in Louisville, Ky., on Aug. 14-16. The Little League World Series will be Aug. 19 in Williamsport, Pa.

Playing in the World Series will be teams from the north, south, east and west regions, West Berlin, Hawaii, Canada and Mexico City.

The schedule for the district playoff games here are 5 and 8 p. m. Aug. 25 for the semi-finals, and 8 p. m. July 26 for the final.

A family reunion and dinner were held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stokes. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ellis and children of Paris, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Livesay and children of Greenwood, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Stokes of Amarillo; Mansil Stokes of El Paso and George Worsham of Canyon.

New Water Comes In

Wayne Price, Canyon's water superintendent, turns a valve to let water from the Forrester field into the Canyon distribution system. The water is being used during the day, but the old well system is being used at night until the Santa Fe tank renovation is completed. Control of the system will be automatic when the tank is put in use.

Hires Architect, Bonding Firm

The first steps toward building a new high school were taken Tuesday night by the Canyon Independent School Board when an architect was selected and a contract for a negotiated bond price was signed.

The architect selected was Townes and Townes of Amarillo, designer of the new elementary building. The firm was one of six interviewed by the board. Others included Shiver and Megert, Architects; Wilson and Patterson, Architects; Bob Hucker; John Work; and Vaughn, McMorries, Kenyon and Associates. All are of Amarillo except Wilson and Patterson, of Fort Worth.

The board accepted a 90-day commitment contract from Columbian Securities, Rauscher Pierce Company, Hamilton Securities and First Southwest for the companies, acting together, to purchase bonds from the district if bonds are voted.

The bonds will be purchased at an average interest rate of 3.72 per cent, and they will have a 23-year maturity schedule.

The school board plans to meet with the architect as soon as preliminary plans can be drawn. A bond election will probably be called early in September.

The board also hired two teachers at the meeting. They are Edward L. Dwyer, who will become the agriculture teacher, and Lometa Odom, who will coach girls basketball and teach girls physical education.

Dwyer will move to Canyon from Hereford, where he has been teaching for the past two years. He is an assistant in the agriculture department there.

Miss Odom, an All-American basketball player while she was in Wayland, comes to Canyon from Spearman. She taught one year in Gruver after graduation, and has been in Spearman one year. She is originally from Dimmitt.

Stadium Drive Plans Explained

The plan for the campaign drive for $300,000 to complete the new Buffalo Stadium was given at a breakfast meeting Tuesday morning in the West Texas State Cafeteria.

Some 35 Canyon residents were told there are four grand divisions in the campaign, three of which will be conducted in Amarillo. The grand divisions are Advance Gifts, gifts from $1000 up; Individual Subscriptions, $500 to $1000; the Amarillo General drive; and general drives in about 20 areas in the Panhandle.

One of the general drives will be conducted in Canyon with Hosea Foster as chairman. Co-chairmen are Bob Bellah, Clay Cooper, Jack Taylor and Bill Sternenberg.

Individuals and firms which contribute as much as $500 will become members of the "500 Club" and will receive small bronze plaques inscribed with their name The plaques will entitle them to first choice of seats in season ticket sales.

The campaign is to be conducted with the idea that contributions will be spaced over a three-year period, entitling donors to tax deductions for three years. Contributions to the fund are tax deductible.

The campaign over the Panhandle is to be concluded by early October. The campaign plans were explained by Dr. Allan Orler of Comerford Associates, the company hired to conduct the drive.

Clark Girls Set For TV Program

Charolette and Judy Clark will appear on Doug Rains' Sports Review on KFDA-TV tomorrow at 6:15 p. m. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark of Canyon.

A Dash of Green, Green Envy

Last week as we read the tragedy of the two men who fell off a cliff in the Conejos River valley in Colorado, we couldn't help feeling jealous of them. Not that we wanted to fall off a cliff, no sireee!

But we have had the privilege of fishing not too far from where the tragedy occurred, and the stories reminded us of the joys we once had.

We pitched our tent under the shade of tall pine trees, and our nighttime lullaby was a combination of the gurgle and rush of water over the rocks and around a bend and the sigh and swish of breezes through the needles of the trees.

We were in hog heaven. It took less than a half-minute to step from our camp ino the Conejos, and another half-minute to begin flipping our fly line. It was in July, and the trout were hungry for flies. Even as clumsy as we were, the flashing fish dimpled the water under our Royal Coachman and scooted away to the safety of deeper water and overhanging rocks.

Sometimes the trout liked Gray Hackle Peacock flies better — but it didn't make any difference to us. We, who rebel at walking a half-block here in Canyon, walked miles everyday — through the stream, over boulders, under trees, sometimes clinging to slim branches to keep from falling into the cold racing water.

We fished in the early morning light, through the noontime, and so late in the evening that we couldn't see our fly floating on the water. We went nuts, you might say, and we had the best time we'd ever had.

Food tasted wonderful, even though it was half-cooked on one side and scorched on the other. We fell to sleep in seconds, and the cold that crept inside our sleeping bag served only to make us toss and turn more often.

We went for days without washing more than our face and hands, and shaving was not to be thought of. We kept Coca-Cola and orange soda in the river water, just beside our tent, and it was wonderful to reach over and pick up a cold bottle as we came from the stream into camp, sweating from the hot sun.

At times like those, we think maybe man was not really made to be a civilized being, living inside wooden walls, tending to a job day by day, shaving and bathing and wearing clean clothes.

But maybe our trouble is that we have not had a chance to go trout fishing this summer, and our envy would not have been so green if we had recently had the feeling of a rainbow tugging at the end of a four-pound leader with a tiny hook caught in the edge of his mouth.

Small Vote Forecast

We'd be willing to wager some token, say a cup of coffe, that there won't be more than 4500 votes cast in this county in the Democratic Primary on July 26. We could lose that token if many people got up in arms in the Precinct 4 commissioners race, but we don't think that will happen.

Except for a few local possibilities, there just aren't any candidates or issues to vote against in the election — and it takes "against votes to make an election big.

Take, for example, some of the statewide races. For U. S. Senator we have Ralph Yarborough and William Blakely. Yarborough believes in more and bigger federal subsidies and lower and fewer federal taxes. Blakely believes in fewer subsidies for everyone else, but it's alright for his airline to be subsidized. Who are you going to vote against there — you really can't do a satisfactory job of voting against both of them.

Or the governor's race. Price Daniel would like to have the office for a second term, and probably will get it. But he's done little in his first term, and most likely will do little in the second. His major opponent, Pedro Sanchez, or whatever his name is, from San Antonio, is sort of standing on an integration platform. We've got Pappy O'Daniel up again. For the life of us, we don't know which ones to vote against—do you?

That's the situation all down the line, in our eyes. We are in favor of everyone going to the polls to register his ideas, and we plan to go ourselves, but lawsy me, who are we going to vote against?

From the Past

Whenever the citizens of Canyon decide to put something over, the job is as good as done, but there is a tardiness sometimes in making up local minds.—Clyde W. Warwick.

Kim and Ramfis

We see by the papers where Kim Novak says she's really and truly stuck on Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., or Ramfis as she calls him. She says she thinks her studio's public relations department is trying to sabotage her romance, and she's going to rebel against the studio.

Ain't that a shame.

Plan Good Season

The board of directors of the Canyon Community Concert Association has been at work thinking of the next concert season, and it has come up with a good starter.

The board placed a hold order on a Chinese bass-baritone, and contracted with the Amarillo Symphony to play his accompaniment and provide an additional concert. The board would also like to pick out a string ensemble, similar to the Paganini Quartet that was here a couple of years ago, and a pianist. If there is enough money, the board would also get a fourth artist.

Of course, the whole situation depends on a membership drive that won't come up until October. When the drive is finished, the board knows how much money is available, and contracts for artists are signed.

We believe that the community concert plan is the best possible method of obtaining name, professional artists and presenting them in concerts at the lowest possible price. With three concerts, the cost to an adult is $2 per time. That's much cheaper than an individaul could see the artist unless he would like to sit high in the balcony — far enough from the stage that the artist looks like a toy.

More information about the coming season will be available later on this fall. Watch for it and plan to become a member.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

George Dolan in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram: D. J. Franklin of Fort Worth says he's been hunting high and low for a son-of-a-gun stew recipe.

I checked last week for him at Stamford with Chamla Reid, wagon cook for the Pitchfork Ranch, who has had his chuck wagon parked on the Texas Cowboy Reunion grounds.

Reid said that steak, cut into small pieces, is the main ingredient.

He also uses beef liver, brains and some marrow gut (pronounced margut). For seasoning, he adds paprika, salt, red and black pepper and a pinch of sage.

Flour can be added for gravy, he said.

Reid, a lanky, leathery gent who has spent 35 of his 67 years cooking on the range says he mixes up a batch every time they kill a beef.

It's a popular dish with the cowhands.

(Dolan tells more about Reid's operation, and elicits these comments from Reid):

"We feed better than hotels, most of them."

Reid prefers cooking outdoors, for one reason, "There's no floors to sweep. When the floor gets dirty, all you've got to do is hook up the team and drive on a ways."

A little dust doesn't hurt, and might even help food. "If dust in food killed you, I don't reckon there'd be any cowboys alive, do you?"

Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record: Flying a flag upside down is a signal of distress the world over . . . but lest visitors to the Canadian Rodeo may have got the wrong impression, we assure them that the fact that the Texas flag was upside down on its staff when it was carried in the Grand Entry had nothing whatever to do with the entry of Alaska into the Nnion.

The Texas flag has been flown upside down in the Grand Entry at the Canadian Rodeo for the past ten years, to our certain knowledge . . . and as far as we can learn, it isn't significant of anything except that nobody has ever remembered to set it right.

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: Jack Clark was eating a sandwich at the Adolphus Walgreen early this week when five persons walked in who were obviously visitors to the city.

They took places at the counter and scanned the menu. One elderly woman was having trouble making up her mind, and the counter girl, trying to help, suggested that she try the Number 1 lunch.

"It's very good today," the waitress said.

"What is it?" demanded the elderly woman.

"Chicken-fried steak."

"I know that," said the elderly lady sharply, "but what part of the chicken is it?"

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By BOYCE HOUSE

Well, I finally made it.

I had been to Los Angeles and San Francisco — to Jacksonville and Miama — to St. Paul and Chicago but not to New York City; probably the only person voting age in the United States who had never been there.

It was quite a thrill to see at last the marvelous skyline and to visit the scenes whose names were so familiar — Wall Street, Central, Park, Harlem, the Bowery, Chinatown, Times Square, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Greenwich Village, Madison Square Garden, Radio City, the Tombs, Brooklyn Bridge, the Statue of Liberty, the Little Church around the Corner, and Broadway.

I saw five stage shows and watched the Yankees lose a double header — (a glorious experience).

Yes, I took in the town — and conducted my own tour. The procedure, effective in smaller cities, worked well. That procedure is to take one of the sight-seeing trips so as to get your directions and a knowledge of the city and thus be able to return to scenes that appeal to you for a more leisurely visit.

I never once got lost; even took the subway back from Yankee stadium and got off a block from my hotel. In fact so throughly at home was I that folks — (well, to be truthful about it, one man — a Central American, he seemed) asked me for the location of his hotel and I was able to tell him.

General impression:

There were the crowds I had expected all right but there was no jostling (except in getting on the subway) and the streets were no more dangerous to cross than those elsewhere; futhermore, I heard no bickering, much less angry exchanges — in fact, one got the impression that these people were friendly — or would like to be, if only they didn't have to be in a hurry to get somewhere so they could start back.

One thing, though: you will find that everybody speaks a dialect, except you.

I will have to go back to New York City, I forgot to see the Aquarium!

Sure-footed Man Serves Texas

The colorful language of the ranch and trail seems to fit Bill Blakley, who made his start in life as a working cowhand. He still rides and ropes with the hands on his ranch at roundup time.

Speaking of Blakley's service as U. S. Senator in 1957, the Dallas News said: "... If he was as unassuming as an old boot, it was nevertheless a well polished boot that never wobbled or wandered from its purposeful path. For this man Blakley is a sure-footed man who knows exactly where he stands and what he believes."

Texans will vote to return William A. Blakley to the Senate on July 26 because he truly represents the spirit, traditions and views of all Texas.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The Adams-Goldfine case continues to occupy the spotlight in Washington. Rumors are going in every direction, and it is sometimes difficult to tell gossip from facts. However, Mr. Goldfine appeared before the Subcommittee and made a statement that could prove most interesting. He could turn out to be the spider that wove the web in which several flies, including Adams, might be caught.

I believe it was Shakespeare who said:

"What a tangled web we weave
When we practice to deceive."

The first story that came out of this escapade was that Mr. Goldfine had given Mr. Adams a vicuna coat, a Persian rug and numerous stays in luxurious hotels as gifts. Mr. Adams was then quoted as saying that part of the loot was gifts, but that the Persian rug was only a loan. Mr. Goldfine apparently owns a number of corporations.

The next chapter of the story was that these gifts or loans, as the case may be, had been charged to the corporations and not to the personal account of Mr. Goldfine. This led to the question of whether or not the expense incurred for the coat, the rug, and the hotel bills had been charged off as a business expense when the income tax return was filed.

The Subcommittee decided to call Mr. Goldfine for the purpose of answering that and other questions. It must be remembered that, if these gifts were given to Mr. Adams by Mr. Goldfine, the value of them was not properly deductible as a business expense or a personal expense

If the rug was loaned to Mr. Adams by Mr. Goldfine or any of his corporations, the value of the rug was not properly deductible as a business expense.

Mr. Goldfine came before the Subcommittee faced with this dilemma. Should he plead the 5th Amendament on the grounds that he might incriminate himself, or should he reveal the full facts concerning the situation. The answer to this question undoubtly kept a number of lawyers up nights trying to figure out an answer.

If Mr. Goldfine pleaded the 5th Amendament it wouldn't have helped him much, because the information was a matter of record and could be obtained. So the decision, undoubtedly, was to tell the truth, which should have been done sometime ago.

The result of Mr. Goldfine's own statement is this. If Mr. Goldfine considered the vicuna coat, the Persian rug, and the hotel bills as legitimately, corporate expenses as they were charged, then Mr. Adams was wrong in his statement that they were personal gifts from Mr. Goldfine.

If they were personal gifts from Mr. Goldfine, as contended by Mr. Adams, then Mr. Goldfine is in a position of having to answer some most embarrassing questions as to why he charged them off as corporate expenses, which if done deliberately, could constitute a criminal act that could be punishable by a term in the penitentiary.

Another story which seems to be gaining momentum in the nation's capital is to the effect that those interested in the Adams-Goldfine side of the recent revelations have employed an outstanding public relations firm to do a snow job on the American public — a publicity campaign that will blind the American public to any possible wrong-doing in this affair and display the alleged culprits as innocence personified.

This sort of thing could prove more dangerous to the American way of life than even the acts of misconduct in public office already proven. Propaganda is a very dangerous thing. This has been proven no less than three times in our generation. I refer to Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini.

Give the American people the truth and the facts, and they will make an honest, fair and correct decision. Only by this method can a free nation persevere.

ALASKA

All of you are aware the Senate last week passed and sent to the President the Alaskan Statehood bill which had earlier passed the House. As many of you know, I have always been opposed to the admission of Alaska as a sovereign State of the United States. The reasons for my opposition were many, and, I believe, sound reasons.

The Congress has acted otherwise, however, and it now appears that Alaska will become the 49th State of the Union. I hope, sincerely and earnestly, that the fears harbored by some of us concerning the admission of Alaska will never ripen.

The people of this country have spoken through a majority of their elected Representatives, and our great system of the democratic processes has properly functioned. I shall do my best to help insure the success of this undertaking.

Marine Murphy Finishes Basic

Charlis G. Murphy, son of Mrs. Ophelia Murphy, completed recruit training July 3 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

The 11-week course included instruction in all basic military subjects and infantry weapons. Upon completion of training, new Marines are assigned to a unit for further infantry training, or to one of the many Marine Corps schools.

ALMOST WORTH IT

A man managed to board a street car the other day, after a hot chase.

On regaining his breath, he said, jokingly to the conductor, "Suppose I'd slipped and lost a leg — what then?"

"Oh," answered the conductor, with unwonted politeness, "you wouldn't have to do any more running then; we always stop for a man with a crutch."

RIGHTO!

Son: "What is meant by the bone of contention, Pop?"

Pop: "I'd say it was the jaw bone, son."

The approved housing list for college students is being prepared at the present time. People who wish to furnish accommodations for students should call the office of the dean of men or the dean of women or address a postal card with the listings to the dean of men or the dean of women, West Texas State College, Canyon, Texas. Three types of listings will be made.

1. Apartments for married couples
2. Rooms and apartments for unmarried men.
3. Rooms and apartments for unmarried women.

In order to be approved for unmarried students apartments must be under the roof of the responsible householder. Householders may keep either college men or college women but no householder may keep both except in special cases where family situations make it possible for the dean of women to approve the arrangement. College officials will be glad to visit any new listings in order to get them on the approved list. Students may live in any approvable housing situation even if they are not on the published list but inconvenience and delay will be saved both the householder and the student when the accommodation is approved in advance. The list will be printed on August 5, 1958. 14-t-1

Treasurer Is County's Bookkeeper; Keeps Track of Receipts, Payments

(This is the last in a series of articles giving the duties and qualifications of contested county offices up for election this year. This article is on the county treasurer. Other articles have been on the county judge, county clerk and county commissioners.—The Editor)

The bookkeeper of the county government is the county treasurer. The duties of the office, stated generally, are to receive and disburse all money and keep a record of what happened to it.

The duties of the office in Randall County are probably lightened somewhat because of the county auditor, whose services are available to help in striking balances and who is also available for advice when needed.

However, the presence of the auditor does not keep the duties from being a mass of detail. The treasurer receives all money due the county, even though it may have been collected by other officers, and deposits it in the bank in the proper fund.

The treasurer keeps a ledger showing all receipts, noting where the money came from and to which fund it is credited, and all disbursements, showing where the money went and from which fund it was paid.

The ledger is posted to a general journal, which must balance.

At present the treasurer keeps track of 10 funds, the road and bridge funds for each of the four precincts, courthouse and jail fund, salary fund, general fund, jury fund, sinking fund and right of way fund.

In addition to the ledger and journal, the treasurer keeps the bond register, receiving coupons from bondholders and paying them off. The treasurer also keeps the payroll, making the necessary deductions and writing the checks.

Keeping the payroll also entails making out W-2 forms at the end of the year for all employes, making monthly quarterly and annual reports to the Internal Revenue Service and the state welfare board.

The treasurer also makes an annual report to the state comptroller detailing the county's indebtedness.

In the monthly bill-paying process, the treasurer is the end of a chain which starts when the commissioners court approves the bills for payment. The county clerk's office types checks for each bill, and keeps a non-negotiable copy.

The treasurer receives the typed checks and another non-negotiable copy. The auditor signs the check, and they are countersigned by the treasurer. The treasurer then puts them through a check protector and mails them out.

The treasurer then begins the job of posting the bills paid to the ledger, using the copy. The copy is then filed in the treasurer's office.

Statutory requirements for the office are simply the general requirements of all office holders. They must be an eligible voter from the standpoint of age and residence, and must never have had anything to do with a duel.

In Randall County, the treasurer's office pays $4,537.50 per year. The office has no other employes.

Candidates for the office are Mrs. Ruth Adcock Hill, the incumbent, and Mrs. Rae M. Walters.

Virginia Lee Owen, Ben Gollehon Wed at Joseph Hill Chapel July 5

Virginia Lee Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Owen of Amarillo, and Ben Robert Gollehon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Gollehon of Dimmitt, were wed in the Joseph A. Hill Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College July 5.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Ford Ellis, pastor of the North Amarillo Christian Church, before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolus and flanked by candelabra bearing white tapers.

Bridesmaid was Barbara Klock, and Mrs. D. J. Myers, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Klock wore a white dress trimmed in pink with white accessories, and Mrs. Myers was attired in a dress of pink silk organza and white accessories. Both carried pink and white carnations.

Kathy Gollehon of Dimmitt, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl and wore a pink dress and white accessories and carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Jo Don Leach, Tulia, was best man, and Jim Restine, Canyon, was groomsman. Ushers were Pat Newell and David Whatley.

Given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Gollehon wore a waltz-length dress of Chantilly lace and nylon net over ivory satin, featuring a fitted bodice enhanced by iridescent sequins. A full skirt of pleated nylon was attached to a deep yoke of lace and the bride's veil of matching Chantilly lace was attached to a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white Bible topped by a white orchid showered with white carnations.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hinger, 1900 Second Avenue, was the setting of the reception which followed the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with white net over pink satin and was centered by Majestic daisies flanked by candelabra. A three-tiered cake, white with small pink roses completed the table.

For her wedding trip to Denver, Colo., the bride chose an aqua sheath with a white jacket and white accessories. The couple will make their home in Canyon.

Mrs. Gollehon, a graduate of Palo Duro High School in Amarillo, is employed by Southwestern Investment Co. Her husband, a graduate of Dimmitt High School, is a senior at West Texas State College and will teach choir in Tulia following his graduation this summer.

Mary Ann Irlbeck Becomes Bride Of James John Janssen in Rite

Marriage vows were solemnized at St. Anne's Catholic Church recently for Mary Irlbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Irlbeck of Canyon, and James John Janssen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Janssen of Umbarger. Father Leo Lavoie read the double ring service.

Mary Janssen and Shirley Irlbeck were the bride's attendants. They wore floor length powder blue dresses and small hats. Best man was Jim Irlbeck, brother of the bride, and Larry Irlbeck, brother of the bride, was groomsman. Ring bearers were Raymond and Charlotte Irlbeck, brother and sister of the bride.

Ushers were Frank Zinzer and R. F. Shell.

Given in marriage by her brother, Gilbert Irlbeck, the bride was attired in a floor length dress of white silk lace and net over white taffeta. She wore a chapel length veil of silk illusion, which fell from a scalloped tiara of lace, sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and red roses tied with white satin streamers.

A dinner in honor of the bride and groom was held at 12:30 p. m., and at 3 p. m. a reception was held in the VFW Hall. For the wedding trip through New Mexico, Colorado and Oklahoma, the bride chose a navy blue dress with white accessories

Peaches Head Plentiful List

The U. S. Department of Agriculture urges homemakers to give peaches a prominent place on their August shopping list, for they head the August plentiful foods list.

Supplies of peaches are large and they are expected to be favorably priced for consumers. Quality also is expected to be high.

Other fruits in August are fresh and processed lemons and watermelons.

Potatoes also will be plentiful during August. There will also be a great variety of summer vegetables from gardens — tomatoes, sweetcorn, snap beans, lima beans, cucumbers, lettuce and onions.

Too, there will be large supplies of vegetable fats and oils

Visitors in the W. T. Davis home have been Mrs. Jean Haines and son Bernard and Dick Tomlinson of Australia.

Grapefruit are so-called because they sometimes grow in clusters.

Fairview Breezes

Brother Claude Fox delivered two fine sermons Sunday morning and evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley visited in the Frank Rogers home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Rogers' daughters and their husbands presented her with a new electric Westinghouse refrigerator for her birthday.

JOHN C. WHITE

TEXAS COMMISSIONER of AGRICULTURE

★ EXPERIENCED ★ QUALIFIED ★ DEMOCRAT ★

He made Texas "FIRST IN THE SOUTH" In Modern Farm Laws and Services!

(Pol. Adv. Paid for by John C. White)

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

In 1876 a wagon with a team of oxen was good transportation in Texas. But on today's city streets and super-highways, the ox wagon would be just a traffic bottleneck.

Some Texans now are saying Texas' 82-year-old, ox wagon-era Constitution is a bottleneck on the road to development of dynamic 20th-century government.

Constitutional revision is not one of the currently sizzling campaign issues. But, quietly and patiently, numerous people in government, in the bar, in professional and civic groups, the press and in private and public educational institutions are plugging away in a make-haste-slowly campaign. Principal objective now is to get Texans thinking about what they want and need in a state constitution today.

Their campaign gained official blessing last year when the Legislature passed a resolution instructing the Legislative Council to do research on the subject and report back in 1959. An 18-member citizens advisory committee was appointed to counsel with the legislative study group. Dean Robert G. Storey of the SMU Law School is chairman; C. Y. Mills of Mission and Mrs. Horton Wayne Smith of Austin, vice chairmen; and Dan Moody Jr. of Austin, secretary.

Next meeting of the advisory group is to be held in September. Right now, one member admits that progress toward revision is itself moving at an ox wagon pace. Reason is that those concerned feel strongly that any action should be preceded by an exhaustive, professional research job. This takes money.

Legislative Council, with a staff of seven, and 11 studies under way, can't go all-out on this one thing, but is doing some fact gathering during the summer. Both Council and committee hope to get money for the work, perhaps by next year, from the Legislature and/or some private foundation.

Advocates of Constitutional revision advance these points, among others, as reasons for concern:

1. It's a staggering document, 47,000 words long, patched up with 133 amendments. If nine more proposed amendments are approved next November, it'll be 54,000 words. Much of it is regarded by lawyers as properly belonging in the statutes rather than in a basic document like the Constitution. Much is cited as totally useless, such as provisions for repelling Indian raids.

2. Like Topsy, Texas' huge conglomeration of agencies, departments, commissions and divisions, "just grew." It's all so loosely put together, say critics, that folks don't know who to blame when things don't suit them. Same indictment is applied to the fiscal set-up. It's a billion dollar a year business, but control is mince-meated among many. State has more than 100 special funds, representing about 85 per cent of state revenue. These can't be touched by the Legislature, even if they are not needed for the purpose for which they're earmarked and are desperately needed elsewhere.

3. Another argument made is that increasing concentration of government in Washington can be halted only if state governments are sufficiently vigorous and adaptable to meet people's changing and growing needs. Some suggest that Texas' present Constitution may be a "strait jacket" on state government.

High Cost of Driving

Texas drivers will have to "pay the piper" next year in higher auto insurance.

State Insurance Board has announced that, effective Aug. 1, auto insurance rates will be substantially higher in most parts of Texas. Average hike will be 32 per cent on comprehensive coverage, 19 per cent on liability and 17 per cent on collision. In Dallas County, for example, a policy which now costs $108 will jump to $142.

Premiums paid on the old rate schedule have not nearly met accident claims, said Penn Jackson, chairman of the Insurance Board. He attributed the insurance companies' "tremendous losses" to four factors:

1. An increasing number of collisions.

2. Higher cost of repairing today's swanky cars.

3. Higher cost of hospital and medical care.

4. Generosity of juries in awarding damages to claimants.

Auto owners, said Jackson, must realize they set their own insurance rates by the way they drive.

WATER FUTURE

Hope ofr an ever-more-prosperous Texas is found in the recently completed state-federal survey of Texas' water resources and needs.

Contents of the study were made public by U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson who requested the survey a year ago. Texas Board of Water Engineers and three federal agencies collaborated in compiling data.

Each major river basin was studied and the possibility of switching floodwaters from one basin to another discussed at length.

"The scope of the economic impact of large-scale water exchange in Texas is impressive," said the report. "If exploited to its logical conclusion, there is solid evidence to indicate that the increase in Texas income would be of great magnitude."

ON FISHING FOR INDUSTRY

A how-to-do-it booklet for communities wanting to attract new industry is now in circulation.

It was published by the new Texas Industrial Commission with private donations. In 66 pages, the book tells how a commuity should analyze itself, correct any inadequacies and bring all goodl points to the fore in a promotional effort.

Commission members expressed hope that passage next November of a constitutional amendment to permit use of state funds for advertising would make continuation of their efforts possible.

A spine-tingling movie played our town recently. We didn't see it, but were in the theatre the week before to see a tamer one. As we left, the usher handed us a slip called a "Beneficiary Agreement." By this clever publicity device, we were promised "ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS in the event of death by fright during the performance"! (Provided, of course, we had "no known heart or nervous condition" before going.)

Maybe we're imagining things, but this makes us Americans sound like a bunch of warped children seeking sadistic thrills. True, it's intended as humor, but what grim humor! And what has happened to normal living to make this attractive?

Have we smoothed out too many bumps in everyday activities? Children are less likely to jump off a coalhouse into a bucket of red paint, as one of us did long ago. Or to break an arm falling from a horse. Or to get up on the roof and have to be rescued by a fireman's ladder. No, their parents keep a close watch to avoid such disasters.

Instead, the youngsters sit in front of a television set, read fantastic science comics, or attend blood-curdling movies, to test out their own reactions to crisis. It's little wonder that the make-believe world soon seems the world of reality, and youngsters become gun-happy, staging holdups and shooting imaginary enemies; or else attempt to take off into space by way of an open second-story window.

We can't blame a movie company for capitalizing on our weaknesses. No doubt it can truthfully be called "good business". What we question is the turn our society has taken that makes this type of appeal go over.

New Senate Hand Aided Democrats

When William A. Blakley was appointed to the U. S. Senate in 1957, he was a political unknown in Texas. But Washington awaited his arrival with great interest. So close was the party balance in the Senate that Blakley's vote was the difference between Democratic and Republican control.

True to his Democratic tradition, Bill Blakley voted with his fellow Democrats. They have been in control ever since.

Now Bill Blakley seeks his first elective term in the U. S. Senate. A vote for Blakley is a vote for sound, Democratic government.

"Actual Experience WITH MY ELECTRIC HOME FREEZER PROVES WHAT I USED TO HEAR THE HOME SERVICE ADVISORS SAY!"

says MRS. ROBERT J. ELSEY, 4213 ONG • AMARILLO, TEXAS

"I was a secretary at the Public Service Company and I used to overhear the Home Service Advisors tell about electric home freezers—how they saved money—how you could get better meals—how you could preserve the garden-freshness of vegetables—how a freezer could save a housewife lots of time. What they said made sense to me but the words just can't equal the actual experiences of owning your own home freezer. I find that everything those girls say is true — especially do I find the freezer ideal for entertaining," says Mrs. Elsey.

Music Camp Adds Small Orchestra With Enrollment of String Students

With a number of string students enrolled for the sixth annual West Texas Music Camp, a small orchestra will be added to the musical groups this year, according to David L. Kaplan, camp director.

The music camp is slated Aug. 4-15 on the campus of West Texas State College, and will attract some 300 Panhandle area high school musicians for two weeks of band, choral and twirling instruction.

More than 200 from throughout the Tri-State area have already signed for the camp, and places remain open for about 60 students, Kaplan said.

The addition of strings instruction this year marks the first time an orchestra has been formed for the camp. The strings students will be organized as an orchestra and will be directed by John Tesovnik of Bakersfield, Calif., where Tesovnik is an orchestra director in the public schools. Tesovnik has attended the camp previously for special courses.

Mrs. Charlotte Brantley, principal violinist for the Amarillo Symphony, will teach private lessons in strings. The orchestra and soloists will perform at the camp's solo and ensemble concert Aug. 13.

Re-elect
MRS. RUTH A. HILL
COUNTY TREASURER
RANDALL COUNTY

To the voters of Randall County:

It is obvious that I may fail to see each of you between now and Election Day, though I am trying to see as many of you as possible, should I fail to contact you, due to my duties at the office, and the fact that Randall County now has such a vast voting public, I would like to take this means as an earnest solicitation of your vote and support in the coming Primary of July 26.

I know that I have made a clean record in this office, having devoted my full time to the duties thereof and do not have a business or source of income other than from the office for which I seek. Therefore, if I am re-elected as your County Treasurer, I shall continue to serve you in the same courteous and efficient manner as I have in the past, and will strive to make an even better County Official if possible.

May I thank you for your support and wonderful cooperation given me in the past and may I again urge you to go to the polls and vote July 26. (Pd Pol. Adv.)

Tea Announces August Marriage

The engagement of Dorothy Cranmer and Johnny Masten was announced Sunday in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cranmer, Miss Cranmer's parents. Masten is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Masten of Wellington. They will be married Aug. 23 in St. Anne's Catholic Church.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Cranmer, Miss Cranmer, and Mrs. Masten. The bride-elect wore a corsage of white asters nestled in small blue aster beds, tied with silver tricetine and white ribbon. The mothers wore white frenched carnations.

The table was laid with a white satin brocaded cloth centered with a large fan of light blue styrafoam tuffed in blue tulle caught at each side with bouquets of white asters that were held by white ribbon and silver net. Hand painted streamers revealed the names, Dorothy and Johnny, and the wedding dates, Aug. 23. A cascade of blue and white ribbons holding silver wedding rings extended to corners to the table. Crystal candelabra held tall white tapers tied with shirred white net and blue ribbon.

White cakes topped by blue wedding bells and punch were served.

Presiding at the table were Mrs. R. A. Hodges, Mrs. Bob Anderson, Mrs. L. E. Hermesmeyer and Mrs. Frank Koetting.

At the guest book were Sharon, Peggy and Leta Cranmer, sisters of the bride-elect. Others in the house party were Matilda Gaume, Mrs. Bill Patke, Mrs. Tony Simon and Mrs. Betty Crain.

Blakley Story Is Typically Texan

The typical American story is of the poor boy who made good through his own efforts. This is the story of Bill Blakley, born in a covered wagon while his parents were on their way to homestead in Oklahoma territory. He has come a long way in 59 years. Said the Austin American-Statesman, when William A. Blakley announced for the Senate:

"... He was a top-hand cowboy; he was a crackerjack bank clerk; he was an exceptionally good accountant and lawyer. We have an idea that he is going to be a refreshing, able political candidate. He would make a great United States Senator."

Vote for Bill Blakley on July 26 — an able man whose only ambition is to serve all of Texas.
